

CAMP RULES

- Camp participants must respect the work of trainers, in and out of training, in order to implement the work of order and discipline at the camp.
- Camp participants are required to be accompanied by a coach for training, swimming pool, beach, excursions and other things organized by the camp.
- Camp participants undertake to arrive on time for training, breakfast, lunch, dinner and other scheduled obligations of the camp organizers.
- Camp participants should be in their rooms by 11 pm.
- Camp participants should wear appropriate equipment – T-shirts, training sneakers that will be required by the trainers or the organizer.
- Camp participants are obliged to take photos in sports equipment on the scheduled day for photography AASA camp and it reserves the right to publish photos in the media on social networks and the Internet, in order to promote the camp.
- Camp participants are obliged to give an interview to the media or for the needs of the camp AASA. The organizer reserves the right to publish the interview and recorded photos.
- If a camp participant has health problems, he / she is obliged to report the problem to the trainer, physiotherapist or doctor, who are available 24 hours a day – in order to provide timely assistance.
- Camp participants are obliged to keep their belongings (money, mobile phone, jewelry) and other valuables. The camp organizer is not responsible for the stolen items.
- If a camp participant voluntarily leaves the camp without the approval of the responsible person or coach, he will bear the consequences. In this case, AASA Camp has the full right to remove the participant from the camp without a refund.
- If a camp participant uses cigarettes, alcohol, narcotics or other illicit substances during the camp, AASA Camp has the right to immediately remove the camp participant without refund.
- Any insults on racial, political, sexual or any other grounds are strictly prohibited, this is a sufficient reason for removal from the camp. No refunds.
- If a camp participant wants to leave the camp for private or other reasons, he is obliged to inform the camp organizer. In this case AASA Camp has no obligation to return funds paid.
- Camp participants are obliged to protect the property of the camp, hotel, sports hall, etc. In case the camp participant causes damage, he is obliged to compensate it. The parents of the minor are responsible for the damage caused by the minor participant.
- Any conduct contrary to the provisions of the ordinance will be sanctioned under the provisions of the ordinance.
- The Code of Conduct for all participants is an integral part of the AASA Camp offer.
- When paying for participation in the camp – the camp participants and the parents of the minor camp participants agree with the Ordinance.
- The Ordinance is available at any time on the website www.aasacamps.ch.